

Call for Post-Doctoral Exchange

The Hebrew University of Jerusalem and the Freie Universität Berlin, within the framework of the Berlin-Jerusalem Initiative to enhance cooperation in the Social Science, sponsored by the Einstein Foundation Berlin, invite a post-doctoral candidate from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem in the fields of International Relations and European Studies to apply for a post-doctoral program at the Freie Universität Berlin during the year 2012 for a period of up to six months (the Summer term in Berlin runs from mid April to mid-July, while the Winter term starts in mid-October).

The cooperative program will provide the post-doctoral student with a monthly sum of 1,600 euro to cover travel, accommodation, and living expenses, up to 9,600 euro for six months (the stay could be shorter).

In order to apply for this post-doctoral program, prospective candidates should submit the following items:

- Two letters of recommendation (at least one from the dissertation advisor).
- An extended abstract (up to 500 words) of the Ph.D. thesis, in English.
- An updated CV.
- A letter of intention and/or statement of purpose with respect to the planned visit and post-doctoral program of study.

An international committee, composed by Faculty members of both Hebrew University and the Freie Universität Berlin will decide about the selection of the candidate.

The deadline for application will be February 10, 2012.

The material should be sent to Anat Illouz at the Leonard Davis Institute for International Relations at Hebrew University of Jerusalem (anati@savion.huji.ac.il). The selection of the candidate will take place by February 29, 2012.
